RE: In re Core Scientific, Inc., et al., Case No. 22-90341
(DRJ)—Appointment of an Official Committee of Equity Holders

Dear Messrs. Perez and Schrock, and Ms. Berkovich:

As you are aware, we represent an ad hoc group of equity security holders (the “Ad Hoc Group”) of Core Scientific, Inc. (“Core Scientific” or the “Company” and together with its subsidiaries and affiliates in the Chapter 11 Cases, the “Debtors”). As of today, the members of the Ad Hoc Group collectively own approximately 51,912,524 shares of the company’s common stock (representing approximately 13.9% of all issued and outstanding stock of the Company and approximately 19.4% of issued and outstanding common stock of the Company not held by insiders).¹

As you are also aware, we sent a letter on January 6, 2023 to Mr. Jayson B. Ruff, the trial attorney representing the United States Trustee for Region 7 (the “U.S. Trustee”) in the Debtors’ pending chapter 11 cases (the “Chapter 11 Cases”), requesting the appointment of an official committee of equity security holders in the Chapter 11 Cases (the “UST Letter”), a copy of which was provided to you. We also engaged in subsequent correspondence with the U.S. Trustee regarding, among other things, the significant increase in the price of Bitcoin, the surge in values of companies comparable to the Debtors since the beginning of the year, and the significant increase in the amount of outstanding and issued common stock included in the Ad Hoc Group since the date of the UST Letter (an increase of nearly 50 million shares of common stock or more than 10% of the Company’s issued and outstanding common stock).

On Friday, January 20, 2023, the U.S. Trustee notified the Ad Hoc Group (by email addressed to Skadden) that the U.S. Trustee was exercising his discretion to decline our request to appoint an official committee of equity security holders in the Chapter 11 Cases, but noted that the U.S. Trustee would continue to monitor the cases.

The Ad Hoc Group continues to believe that equity is “in the money” and that equity holders have a substantial stake in the outcome of the Chapter 11 Cases, and therefore, equity holders deserve meaningful representation in the Chapter 11 Cases. Indeed, the Debtors’ own representations establish that the Company’s common stock holds real value. Specifically, the Debtors reported positive stockholder equity of approximately $73 million in their most recent balance sheet,² the First Day Declaration of the Company’s CEO indicates that assets exceed liabilities by at least $100 million,³ and the Debtors have unilaterally proposed a distribution to stockholders in these Chapter 11 Cases⁴ that they describe as a

“meaningful recover[y]” for stockholders.⁵ In addition, the price of Bitcoin and the value of companies comparable to the Debtors continue to surge, indicating a significant increase in the value of Debtors’ estates since the Petition Date for the benefit of the Company’s equity security holders.

Specifically, since December 18, 2022, just days leading up to the Debtors’ chapter 11 filings, the price of Bitcoin has increased from $16,439.68 (at market close) to $22,997.80 (at market close today)—a price increase of more than 38 percent.

In addition to the foregoing, the Ad Hoc Group has been monitoring the trading prices of several of the Company’s competitors. As reflected in the charts below, trading prices for these comparable companies have doubled, or even tripled, in the first few weeks of 2023.

The price of Marathon Digital Holdings, a cryptocurrency mining company headquartered in Las Vegas, increased from $3.40 on the first day of trading in 2023 to $9.00 today, January 23, 2023—a 165% increase in less than three weeks.⁶

The price of Riot Platforms, Inc., a Bitcoin mining company headquartered in Colorado, increased from $3.37 on the first day of trading in 2023 to $6.48 today, January 23, 2023—a 92% increase in less than three weeks.⁷

The price of Hut 8 Mining Corp., a Bitcoin mining company based in Toronto, increased from $0.82 on the first day of trading in 2023 to $1.98 today, January 23, 2023—a 142% increase in less than three weeks.⁹

The Debtors pointed to the transitory decline in the price of Bitcoin in both their First Day Declaration¹⁰ and their first day hearing,¹¹ as well as certain other temporary macroeconomic factors,¹² as the leading cause of the Debtors' financial decline and decision to seek chapter 11 relief.

The surge in value of Bitcoin and the Debtors' competitors illustrate that these macroeconomic factors are trending in a favorable, value-accretive direction.¹³ Indeed, B. Riley's open letter to the Company's shareholders and lenders, and as we highlighted in the UST Letter, noted that every $1,000 increase in the price of Bitcoin would likely increase EBITDA by $20 million.¹⁴ In other words, the Debtors' EBITDA has likely increased by more than $131 million in just the first month of the chapter 11 cases, which the Ad Hoc Group believes equates to an increase in the value of the Company in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

In light of the positive trajectory of the economy and the rapidly increasing value of the Debtors' estates, the equity security holders are in need of adequate and independent representation in the Chapter 11 Cases now. To that end, the Ad Hoc Group has instructed us to file a motion seeking appointment of an official equity committee in the Chapter 11 Cases. We intend to file a motion asking the bankruptcy court to appoint an equity committee by the end of the week.

In advance of filing and prosecuting this motion, however, we are reaching out to note that the Ad Hoc Group is open to discussing a consensual resolution with the Company for the appointment of an official equity committee, including defining the scope of an official equity committee's role in the Chapter 11 Cases and agreeing upon a reasonable budget. We hope you agree that our rationale is sound for the formation of an equity committee notwithstanding the US Trustee's decision, and we would appreciate your support. If we reach a consensual agreement now, then we can avoid unnecessary expenses and file a joint motion with agreed terms, with the objective of having an official committee appointed efficiently and expeditiously.

¹³ Undoubtedly, the value of a company's stock is a strong indication of value. See, e.g., VFB LLC v. Campbell Soup Co., No. 02-137 KAJ, 2005 WL 2234606, at *22 (D. Del. Sept. 13, 2005), aff'd, 482 F.3d 624 (3d Cir. 2007), and aff'd, 482 F.3d 624 (3d Cir. 2007) ("The price of a company's publicly traded common stock at the time of the transaction is presumably an ideal data point for the determination of fair market value. Specifically, with respect to stock traded on 'the New York Stock Exchange, one of the most efficient capital markets in the world, 'the value established on the open market is the fair market value for purposes of determining reasonably equivalent value, [i]n the absence of any evidence of manipulation or bad faith.'") (quoting PHP Liquidating, LLC v. Robbins (In re PHP Healthcare Corp.), 128 Fed. Appx. 839, 848 (3d Cir. 2005)).
